

IRES WILDLIFE CONSERVATION PROGRAM IN THE CARIBBEAN

The Tropical Conservation Institute (TCI) in Florida International University's Institute of Environment is seeking 4 outstanding undergraduate students and 2 graduate students to participate in TCI's International Research Experience for Students (IRES) Program, a research training program in parrot and cetacean conservation in St. Vincent and the Grenadines (SVG).

This opportunity is only open to students currently enrolled in a US university, and scheduled to graduate in Fall 2022 or later.*

PROGRAM INCLUDES:

- Pre-field semester (spring 2022)
- Paid internship in SVG (summer 2022)
- Post-field semester (fall 2022)

HOW TO APPLY:

Interested applicants should submit their application to tci.fiu.edu by November 1st at 11:59 pm.

LEARN MORE & APPLY